Jacob marrieth GENESIS, XXIX. Leah and Rachel.

15 And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of.

16 ¶ And Jacob awaked out of his sleep, and he said, Surely the LORD is in this place; and I knew it not.

17 And he was afraid, and said, How dreadful is this place! this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven.

18 And Jacob rose up early in the morning, and took the stone that he had put for his pillows, and set it up for a pillar, and poured oil upon the top of it.

12 And Jacob told Rachel that he was her father's brother, and that he was Rebekah's son: and she ran and told her father.

13 And it came to pass, when Laban heard the tidings of Jacob his sister's son, that he ran to meet him, and embraced him, and kissed him, and brought him to his house. And he told Laban all these things.

14 And Laban said to him, Surely thou art my bone and my flesh. And he abode with him the space of a month.

15 ¶ And Laban said unto Jacob, Because thou art my brother, shouldest thou therefore serve me for nought? tell me, what shall thy wages be?

Vision of Jacob's ladder. GENESIS, XXVIII. Jacob meeteth Rachel.

AND Isaac called Jacob, and blessed him, and charged him, and said unto him, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan.

2 Arise, go to Padan-aram, to the house of Bethuel thy mother's father; and take thee a wife from thence of the daughters of Laban thy mother's brother.

3 And God Almighty bless thee, and make thee fruitful, and multiply thee, that thou mayest be a multitude of people;

4 And give thee the blessing of Abraham, to thee, and to thy seed with thee; that thou mayest inherit the land wherein thou art a stranger, which God gave unto Abraham.

5 And Isaac sent away Jacob: and he went to Padan-aram unto Laban, son of Bethuel

19 And he called the name of that place Beth-el: but the name of that city was called Luz at the first.

20 And Jacob vowed a vow, saying, If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on,

21 So that I come again to my father's house in peace; then shall the Lord be my God:

22 And this stone, which I have set for a pillar, shall be God's house: and of all that thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto thee.

God threateneth Babylon. ISAIAH, XIV. The restoration of Israel.

7 Therefore shall all hands be faint, and every man's heart shall melt:

8 And they shall be afraid: pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them; they shall be in pain as a woman that travaileth: they shall be amazed one at another; their faces shall be as flames.

9 Behold, the day of the LORD cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate: and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it.

10 For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible.

12 I will make a man more precious than fine gold; even a man than the golden wedge of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heavens, and the earth shall remove out of her place, in the wrath of the LORD of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And it shall be as the chased roe, and as a sheep that no man taketh up: they shall every man turn to his own people, and flee every one into his own land.

15 Every one that is found shall be thrust through; and every one that is joined unto them shall fall by the sword.

16 Their children also shall be dashed to pieces before their eyes; their houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished.

17 Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver; and as for gold, they shall not delight in it.

18 Their bows also shall dash the young men to pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye shall not spare children.

19 And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldees' excellency, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah.

20 It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there; neither shall the shepherds make their fold there.

21 But wild beasts of the desert

THE GENUINE "OXFORD" TEACHERS' BIBLE

CONTAINS ALL THE LATEST FEATURES, INCLUDING A

Self-Pronouncing Dictionary of Scripture Proper Names.

ALL PROPER NAMES ACCENTED AND SYLLABIFIED WITH THEIR PRONUNCIATIONS AND MEANINGS.

The Right Honorable Wm. E. Gladstone says:

These admirable Bibles must tend to extend the fame even of the Oxford Press.

Containing:

CONCORDANCE, with context, over 40,000 references. Index to persons, places, and subjects, 16,000 references. Scripture atlas, with Index, glossary of Bible words. Bible calendar. Dictionary of proper names, with their meanings and pronunciations. Summary and analysis of the Old and New Testaments.

EXHAUSTIVE articles on Biblical history, geography, topography, natural history, ethnology, botany, chronology, music, and poetry.

A COMPLETE harmony of the gospels, tables of parables, prophecies, miracles, prayers, money, weights and measures, Jewish sects and orders, etc.

"In our judgment no Bible compares with it in these particulars:—

"First, in durability. The materials are all first class, and they are put together in a reliable and workmanlike manner. The 'Oxford' lasts.

"Second, by a happy combination of paper and type, the 'Oxford' is easy to read, and soft to the eye.

"Third, the 'Oxford' is portable, easy to carry, and convenient to handle.

"Fourth, the references are full, accurate, and pertinent.

"Fifth, the helps are helpful, complete, and reliable.

"Sixth, the prices are as low as any in the market, and are on a scale sufficiently variable to suit everybody, whatever may be the state of the pocketbook.

"We hold in our hands at this moment an 'Oxford' Bible. It is 'a thing of beauty and a joy forever.'"
—Christian Witness.

America and Great Britain's

Eminent Scholars and Divines of all denominations pronounce the

32. 14. JOB. 401

And would root out all mine increase.
13 If I did despise the cause of my manservant or of my maidservant,
When they contended with me:
14 What then shall I do when God riseth up?
And when he visiteth, what shall I answer him?
15 Did not he that made me in the womb make him?
And did not one fashion us in the womb?
16 If I have withheld [1]the poor from their desire,
Or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail;
17 Or have eaten my morsel alone,
And the fatherless hath not eaten thereof;
18 (Nay, from my youth he grew up with me as with a father,
And I have been her guide from my mother's womb;)
19 If I have seen any perish for want of clothing,
Or that the needy had no covering;
20 If his loins have not blessed me,
And if he were not warmed with the fleece of my sheep;
21 If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless,
Because I saw my help in the gate:
22 Then let my shoulder fall from the shoulder blade,
And mine arm be broken from the bone.
23 For calamity from God was a terror to me,
And by reason of his excellency I could do nothing.
24 If I have made gold my hope,
And have said to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence;
25 If I rejoiced because my wealth

34 Because I feared the great multitude,
And the contempt of families terrified me,
So that I kept silence, and went not out of the door—
35 Oh that I had one to hear me!
(Lo, here is my [9]signature, let the Almighty answer me;)
And that I had the [10]indictment which mine adversary hath written!
36 Surely I would carry it upon my shoulder;
I would bind it unto me as a crown.
37 I would declare unto him the number of my steps;
As a prince would I [11]go near unto him.
38 If my land cry out against me,
And the furrows thereof weep together;
39 If I have eaten the [12]fruits thereof without money,
Or have caused the owners thereof to lose their life:
40 Let [13]thistles grow instead of wheat,
And [14]cockle instead of barley.

The words of Job are ended.

32 So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes. Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram: against Job was his wrath kindled, because he justified himself rather than God. Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job. Now Elihu had [15]waited to speak unto Job, because they were elder than he. And when Elihu saw that there was no answer

29 [d] O give thanks unto the LORD; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

PSALM CXIX.

This psalm containeth sundry prayers, praises, and professions of obedience.

ALEPH.

BLESSED are the [2]undefiled in the way, "who walk in the law of the LORD.

2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart.

3 [b] They also do no iniquity: they walk in his ways.

4 Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently.

5 O that my ways were directed to keep thy statutes!

6 [c] Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments.

7 [d] I will praise thee with uprightness of heart, when I shall have learned [3]thy righteous judgments.

8 I will keep thy statutes: O forsake me not utterly.

BETH.

9 Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word.

10 With my whole heart have I [e] sought thee: O let me not [f] wander from thy commandments.

11 [g] Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.

12 Blessed art thou, O LORD: [h] teach me thy statutes.

13 With my lips have I [i] declared all the judgments of thy mouth.

14 I have rejoiced in the way of thy testimonies, as much as in all riches.

15 I will [k] meditate in thy precepts, and have respect unto thy ways.

16 I will [l] delight myself in thy statutes: I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL.

17 [m] Deal bountifully with thy servant, that I may live, and keep thy word.

18 [4] Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

19 [n] I am a stranger in the earth: hide not thy commandments from me.

20 [o] My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times.

21 Thou hast rebuked the proud that are cursed, which do [p] err from thy commandments.

22 [q] Remove from me reproach and contempt; for I have kept thy testimonies.

23 Princes also did sit and speak against me: but thy servant did [r] meditate in thy statutes.

24 [s] Thy testimonies also are my delight and [5] my counsellors.

DALETH.

25 [t] My soul cleaveth unto the dust: [u] quicken thou me according to thy word.

26 I have declared my ways, and thou heardest me: [x] teach me thy statutes.

27 Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so [y] shall I talk of thy wondrous works.

28 [z] My soul [2]melteth for heaviness: strengthen thou me according unto thy word.

29 Remove from me the way of lying: and grant me thy law graciously.

30 I have chosen the way of truth: thy judgments have I laid before me.

31 I have stuck unto thy testimonies: O LORD, put me not to shame.

32 I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt "enlarge my heart.

HE.

33 [b] Teach me, O LORD, the way of thy statutes; and I shall keep it [c] unto the end.

34 [d] Give me understanding, and I shall keep thy law; yea, I shall observe it with my whole heart.

35 Make me to go in the path of thy commandments; for therein do I [e] delight.

36 Incline my heart unto thy testimonies, and not to [f] covetousness.

37 [g] [3] Turn away mine eyes from [h] beholding vanity; and [i] quicken thou me in thy way.

38 [k] Stablish thy word unto thy servant, who is devoted to thy fear.

39 Turn away my reproach which I fear: for thy judgments are good.

40 Behold, I have [l] longed after thy precepts: [4] quicken me in thy righteousness.

VAU.

41 [m] Let thy mercies come also unto me, O LORD, even thy salvation, according to thy word.

42 [5] So shall I have wherewith to answer him that reproacheth me: for I trust in thy word.

43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; for I have hoped in thy judgments.

44 So shall I keep thy law continually for ever and ever.

45 And I will walk [6] at liberty: for I seek thy precepts.

46 [n] I will speak of thy testimonies also before kings, and will not be ashamed.

47 And I will [p] delight myself in thy commandments, which I have loved.

48 My hands also will I lift up unto thy commandments, which I have loved; and I will [q] meditate in thy statutes.

ZAIN.

49 Remember the word unto thy servant, upon which thou hast caused me to [r] hope.

50 This is my [s] comfort in my affliction: for thy word hath quickened me.

29 [d] O give thanks unto the LORD; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

PSALM CXIX.

This psalm containeth sundry prayers, praises, and professions of obedience.

ALEPH.

BLESSED are the [2] undefiled in the way, [a] who walk in the law of the LORD.

2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart.

3 [b] They also do no iniquity: they walk in his ways.

4 Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently.

5 O that my ways were directed to keep thy statutes!

6 [c] Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments.

7 [d] I will praise thee with uprightness of heart, when I shall have learned [3] thy righteous judgments.

8 I will keep thy statutes: O forsake me not utterly.

BETH.

9 Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word.

10 With my whole heart have I [e] sought thee: O let me not [f] wander from thy commandments.

11 [g] Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.

12 Blessed art thou, O LORD: [h] teach me thy statutes.

13 With my lips have I [i] declared all the judgments of thy mouth.

14 I have rejoiced in the way of thy testimonies, as much as in all riches.

15 I will [k] meditate in thy precepts, and have respect unto thy ways.

16 I will [l] delight myself in thy statutes: I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL.

17 [m] Deal bountifully with thy servant, that I may live, and keep thy word.

[n] quicken thou me according to thy word.

26 I have declared my ways, and thou heardest me: [x] teach me thy statutes.

27 Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so [y] shall I talk of thy wondrous works.

28 [z] My soul [2] melteth for heaviness: strengthen thou me according unto thy word.

29 Remove from me the way of lying: and grant me thy law graciously.

30 I have chosen the way of truth: thy judgments have I laid before me.

31 I have stuck unto thy testimonies: O LORD, put me not to shame.

32 I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt [a] enlarge my heart.

HE.

33 [b] Teach me, O LORD, the way of thy statutes; and I shall keep it [c] unto the end.

34 [d] Give me understanding, and I shall keep thy law; yea, I shall observe it with my whole heart.

35 Make me to go in the path of thy commandments; for therein do I [e] delight.

36 Incline my heart unto thy testimonies, and not to [f] covetousness.

37 [g] [3] Turn away mine eyes from [h] beholding vanity; and [i] quicken thou me in thy way.

38 [k] Stablish thy word unto thy servant, who is devoted to thy fear.

39 Turn away my reproach which I fear: for thy judgments are good.

40 Behold, I have [l] longed after thy precepts: [m] quicken me in thy righteousness.

VAU.

41 [n] Let thy mercies come also unto me, O LORD, even thy salvation, according to thy word.

42 [4] So shall I have wherewith to answer him that reproacheth me: for I trust in thy word.

43 And take not the word of truth

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

CHAPTER 1.

THE former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach,
2 Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen:
3 To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:
4 And, being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, saith he, ye have heard of me.
5 For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.
6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?
7 And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power.
8 But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judæa, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.
9 And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight.
10 And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel;

ST. JOHN, 14.

Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

29 For some of them thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor.

30 He then having received the sop went immediately out: and it was night.

31 ¶ Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and shall straightway glorify him.

33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you.

34 A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

35 By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36 ¶ Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow me afterwards.

37 Peter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake.

38 Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

CHAPTER 14.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples with the hope of heaven: 6 professeth himself the way, the truth, and the life, and one with the Father: 13 assureth their prayers in his name to be effectual: 15 requesteth love and obedience, 16 promiseth the Holy Ghost the Comforter, 27 and leaveth his peace with them.

LET not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

2 In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

7 If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

10 Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

ACCORDING TO

ST. MARK.

CHAPTER 1.

THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God;

2 As it is written in the prophets, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.

5 And there went out unto him all the land of Judæa, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins.

6 And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat locusts and wild honey;

11 And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

12 And immediately the spirit driveth him into the wilderness.

13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Satan; and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.

14 Now after that John was put in Special attention invited to the superbly printed "Oxford India Paper" Editions of Prayer-Books and Hymnals.

The Oxford India Paper is a specialty of the Oxford Press, and is manufactured at the paper mills of the Oxford University Press.

A distinguishing characteristic of the Oxford India Paper, as compared with all so-called India paper, is that the impression on one side does not show through when the other side is being read.

A strip of this paper, only three inches in breadth, has been tested and found able to support a quarter of a hundredweight without yielding; a decisive proof of its exceeding toughness and durability.

The wonderful lightness of these books, the exceedingly clear type, the strength and excellence of binding, combine to place them far in advance of any book hitherto issued.

196 THE CHURCH—HOLY COMMUNION.

218 L. M.

O HAPPY day, that stays my choice
On Thee, my Saviour and my God;
Well may this glowing heart rejoice,
And tell Thy goodness all abroad.

2 Here rest, my oft-divided heart,
Fixed on thy God, thy Saviour, rest;
Who with the world would grieve to part
When called on angels' food to feast?

3 High Heaven that heard the solemn vow,
That vow renewed shall daily hear;
Till in life's latest hour I bow,
And bless in death a bond so dear.

4 There we, as children dwelling,
Who here as exiles groan,
God's praises shall be telling
Before His glorious throne:
There in our endless home shall rest,
From strife and sorrow free,
And join the anthem of the blest,
Forever, Lord, to Thee.

SING, with all the sons of glory,
Sing the resurrection-song!
Death and sorrow, earth's dark story,
To the "former days" belong.
Even now the dawn is breaking,
Soon the night of time shall cease,
And, in God's own likeness waking,
Man shall know eternal peace.

OFT in danger, oft in woe,
Onward, Christians, onward go:
Fight the fight, maintain the strife,
Strengthened with the Bread of life.

2 Let your drooping hearts be glad:
March in heavenly armor clad:
Fight, nor think the battle long,
Soon shall victory tune your song.

3 Let not sorrow dim your eye,
Soon shall every tear be dry;
Let not fears your course impede,
Great your strength, if great your need.

After Fifty Years; or, Letters of a Grandfather, 1843-1893. By W. G. Blaikie, D.D., LL.D. 12mo, cloth extra 60*

Dr. Blaikie in his preface says: "The thought of writing an account of the origin and subsequent progress of the Free Church, in letters to my grandchildren, was simmering in the mind of the author when he received a request from the Publications Committee of the Free Church, to write a narrative that, while suitable to the rising generation, might be interesting and instructive to all. This request led him in some degree to modify, without altogether abandoning, his original plan. The familiar style of letters has been retained, and the grandfather has not been altogether superseded."

"The book is full of interesting information about the Free Church, written in a pleasant and effective style, which is sure to impress and interest all who read the book, whether inside the Church or out of it. The book is a very appropriate one to place in the hands of any one who wishes to know how the Free Church began, and what it has done during the past fifty years."—From the Free Church Monthly.

Quarto (size, $10\frac{3}{8} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ inches), half morocco, gilt top..... $7.50*

Throughout the Atlas the countries of the world have been treated with fulness in proportion to their commercial importance and interest.

In the United States section a separate map is given of each of the States and Territories.

The Canadian Provinces are treated in similar detail.

These Maps have been specially compiled from the latest and best Government Survey Maps, and have undergone local revision for the verification of New Counties, Townships and Railways.

Among the special features are Maps of the Hudson and Rhine Rivers, the Yosemite Valley, United States Railways, British Isles Railways, mean Annual Temperature, mean Annual Rainfall; also Maps showing location of the World's Fair, environs of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, New Orleans, Montreal, Quebec, Toronto, Ottawa, Rio Janeiro, London, Liverpool, Manchester, Moville, Paris, Vienna, Rome, Constantinople, Cape Town, Jerusalem, etc., etc.

The results of the new census have been incorporated.

For compactness and portability this volume is, in proportion to its ample contents, quite unique among atlases.

"An admirable example of map-making, a thorough work of art in is way, clear, compact, precise, with hardly a broken letter, even, to be found."—NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

"Of the making of new atlases there is no end, but there is always room and a warm welcome for a good and concise one. The present Atlas is both, and is a perfect example of 'multum in parvo.' . . . The same degree of care and good editing characterizes the Graphic Gazetteer, the index portion of the book. It is truly named a concise dictionary of geography, for one line is sufficient to give all the required information as to the situation of every province, city, town or village, mountain, river or stream in the four quarters of the globe."—Public Ledger, Philadelphia.

"Another valuable atlas from the Messrs. Nelson is called 'The Graphic Atlas.' It contains also a Gazetteer, and is edited by Mr. Bartholomew. In size it is a convenient large octavo, or small folio. . . . All the various States of the United States are presented, with plans of the leading cities. In looking at the plotting of Chicago, the exact locality of the World's Fair is shown, and this is sufficient to show that the Atlas is up to date. The newest African explorations are presented, with its recent political apportioning. . . . We should say that the volume, from its convenient form and completeness, would meet the general demand."—NEW YORK TIMES.

"It makes a valuable addition to the library and the business office."—The Christian Union.

Sc. V.] Hamlet. 319

And what so poor a man as Hamlet is
May do, to express his love and friending to you,
God willing, shall not lack. Let us go in together;
And still your fingers on your lips, I pray.
The time is out of joint; O cursed spite,
That ever I was born to set it right!
Nay, come let's go together. [Exeunt.

Enter POLONIUS and REYNALDO.

Pol. Give him this money and these notes, Reynaldo.

Pol. Marry, well said, very well said. Look you, sir,
Inquire me first what Danskers are in Paris;
And how, and who, what means, and where they keep,
What company, at what expense; and finding
By this encompassment and drift of question
That they do know my son, come you more nearer
Than your particular demands will touch it:

BINET, ALFRED.

THE PSYCHIC LIFE OF MICRO-ORGANISMS.

Authorised translation. 135 pages. Cloth, 75 cents. Paper, 50 cents.

A special fascination is attached to the wonders of the world of psychic life in a drop of water. It is astonishing to see how much these tiny creatures behave like ourselves!

"In putting forth so early after its appearance in French this careful translation of M. Binet's study of 'The Psychic Life of Micro-Organisms,' The Open Court Pub Co. has shown at once enterprise and discrimination."—Mind, London.

ON DOUBLE CONSCIOUSNESS.

New Studies in Experimental Psychology. 93 pages. Paper, 50 cents.

Our conscious life is only part of our soul's existence. There are subconscious and even unconscious states and actions taking place in man which are of a psychic nature. M. Binet gives an account of his experiments in this field.

"We recommend M. Binet's little book to all psychologists as an original and very valuable contribution to their science."—Chicago Evening Journal.

CARUS, PAUL.

THE ETHICAL PROBLEM.

Three Lectures Delivered at the Invitation of the Board of Trustees before the Society for Ethical Culture of Chicago, in June, 1890. 90 pages. Cloth, 50 cents. Paper, 30 cents.

"The Ethical Problem" is a criticism of the position of the societies for ethical culture. They propose to teach ethics pure and simple without committing themselves to any world-conception of religion or philosophy. It is shown here that our views of morality always depend upon our view of life: every definition of good presupposes a certain world-conception.

FUNDAMENTAL PROBLEMS.

The Method of Philosophy as a Systematic Arrangement of Knowledge. Second edition, enlarged and revised. 372 pages. Cloth, $1.50.

Monistic Positivism, as presented in "Fundamental Problems," starts from facts, and aims at a unitary conception of facts. Knowledge is a description of facts in mental symbols. Sensations are the data of experience, yet the formal aspect of facts is recognised in its all-important significance. Agnosticism is rejected, and the ethical importance of a positive world-conception insisted upon. The appendix consists of a number of discussions in which the author considers all the objections made by critics of many different standpoints.

"A good introduction to the study of formal philosophy."—The Scotsman, Edinburgh.

"It is reverent, elevated, and comprehensive. He is willing for other people to think for themselves, and his work is very suggestive."—Public Opinion.

HOMILIES OF SCIENCE.

310 pages. Cloth, Gilt Top, $1.50.

Short ethical exhortations and sermon-like discussions of religious, moral social, and political topics made from a standpoint which might briefly be characterised the Religion of Science.

"It is always a pleasure to read the utterances of the author of this book when religion and morality are under consideration. He is so frank in stating his own views and so utterly free from harshness or uncharitableness in stating his opposition to the views of others, as to be able to carry any reader along without personal irritation. We are attracted by the strong moral and spiritual tone in the book, and find a reverence and devotion here for things of the spirit which do not exist in some of our so-called religious writers. It will stir many a soul to a higher life."—Public Opinion.

THE IDEA OF GOD.

A disquisition upon the development of the idea of God. 32 pages. Linen Cover, 15 cents.

"An effort to purify our 'Idea of God' that it may be greater, sublimer, and more awe-inspiring to future generations, than it has ever been yet."—Literary World, London.

"An interesting history and analysis of the idea of God."—Unity, Chicago.

THE SOUL OF MAN.

An Investigation of the Facts of Physiological and Experimental Psychology. With 152 illustrative cuts and diagrams. 458 pages. Cloth, $3.00.

This book elucidates first the philosophical problem of mind, showing that mind is not motion but the subjective state of awareness accompanying certain motions of the brain. It describes the physiological facts of the nervous system and the experiments of hypnotism, and after a discussion of the Nature of Thought, Consciousness, Pleasure and Pain, it presents the ethical and religious conclusions derived from these considerations.

"The work is furnished with a complete treatise on anatomy, on the physiology of the brain and of the nerves, exposed with a truly marvellous clearness. He evinces the tendency to make of his doctrine a religion, and he is a convinced and worthy apostle to the effect of attaining this great aim, unto which he has devoted his two great American reviews The Open Court and The Monist.

"We, on the contrary, a frivolous people destitute of convictions, do not understand the heights of these ideal aspirations, but we ought at least to admire them." C. Lombroso, in Archives of Psychiatry, Penal Science and Anthropology.

COLBERT, E., M.A.

HUMANITY IN ITS ORIGIN AND EARLY GROWTH.

409 pages. Cloth, $1.50.

"Mr. Colbert is a pronounced evolutionist; he tells the story of the origin of man and of the precise manner in which he was evolved from lower organisms, with all the particularity and minuteness of an eye witness. . . . There is no other book extant which, in this compass, covers so completely, from the evolutionist's standpoint, these successive steps in the early development of the human race."—Review of Reviews.

"Each author of the three essays is an authority in his specialty. The work is one of interest and will repay careful reading."—Northwestern Presbyterian, St. Paul.

FREYTAG, GUSTAV.

THE LOST MANUSCRIPT.

A Novel. Authorised translation from the Sixteenth German Edition. Two volumes. 953 pages. Extra cloth, gilt top, $4.00; the same in one volume, cloth, $1.00; paper, 75 cents.

The author writes as a motto for the American edition:

"A noble human life does not end on earth with death. It continues in the minds and the deeds of friends, as well as in the thoughts and the activity of the nation."

Gustav Freytag did not write his novel with the intention of teaching psychology or preaching ethics. But the impartial description of life does teach ethics, and every poet is a psychologist in the sense that he portrays human souls. This is pre-eminently true of Gustav Freytag and his novel "The Lost Manuscript."

"It is superfluous to do more than call attention to this great novel of the great German novelist, the greatest perhaps of all his works that have made him famous not only in the Fatherland, but in all lands. The marvel of this book is its cheapness, considering its size, and the neatness and substantialness of its binding. It opens also readily to the hand and lies open, making it easy to handle while reading."—Christian Weekly, New York.

THE SCIENCE OF MECHANICS.

A Critical and Historical Exposition of its Principles.

Translated from the second German edition by Thomas J. McCormack. With 250 cuts and illustrations. Half mor., gilt top, 1 volume. 538 pages. $2.50

This work has attracted, by the simplicity, clearness, and profundity of its views, the attention of thinkers throughout the world. Its aim is to present the principles of mechanics from the point of view of the theory of knowledge, and to free the science of all metaphysicism.

MÜLLER, PROF. F. MAX.

THREE INTRODUCTORY LECTURES ON THE SCIENCE OF THOUGHT.

With a correspondence on "Thought Without Words," between F. Max Müller and Francis Galton, the Duke of Argyll, George J. Romanes, and others. 128 pages. Cloth, 75 cents.

1. The Simplicity of Language; 2. The Identity of Language and Thought and 3. The Simplicity of Thought.

Prof. F. Max Müller sets forth his view of the identity of Language and Thought, which is a further development of Ludwig Noiré's theory that "man thinks because he speaks." Language is thought, no thought is possible without some symbols, be they spoken or written words.

"They are the ripe expressions of a life-long labor in the study of the science of language.—Scotsman, Edinburgh.

"The lecturer states his position with great clearness and cogency, and comes out of the correspondence with his critics with credit and with his reasoning unshaken."—Chicago Times.

THREE LECTURES ON THE SCIENCE OF LANGUAGE.

The Oxford University Extension Lectures, with a Supplement, "My Predecessors," an essay on the genesis of "The Science of Thought." 112 pages Cloth, 75 cents.

Prof. F. Max Müller points out that the difference between man and animal is due to language, yet there is no mystery in language. He shows the origin of language as developed from the clamor concomitans of social beings engaged in common work. Thought is thicker than blood, and the bonds of the same language and the same ideas are stronger than of family and race relation.

"A careful, scholarly, and interesting book, written in a style which is at once lucid, strong, and vivacious. Though deep, it is not dull; though profound, it is not obscure; and a quiet little sparkle of humor enlivens and enlightens the whole."—Writer, Boston.

"As presented by Professor Müller, the science of language is among the most fascinating of sciences."—Times-Democrat, New Orleans.

THE PSYCHOLOGY OF ATTENTION.

Authorised translation, 121 pages. Cloth, 75 Cents.

"It is a closely reasoned and luminous exposition of a genuine piece of psychological work."—Nature, London.

"It is the chef d'œuvre of one of the best of those students who have at length erected psychology into a science."—The Nation.

THE DISEASES OF PERSONALITY.

Authorised translation, 157 pages. Cloth, 75 Cents.

The works of Th. Ribot explain the growth and nature of man's soul. The former book, "The Psychology of Attention," is an exposition of the mechanism of concentrating the will upon a special object, thus showing the cause of the unity of the soul and throwing light upon the nature of the ego. The latter book, "The Diseases of Personality," elucidates the hierarchical character of man's psychic life which rises from simple beginnings to a complex structure. The growth of personality is shown by an analysis of its diseases, and its evolution is set forth in the instances of its dissolution.

"One of the conspicuous merits of his work is its thoroughly judicial temper."—Unity.

"Dr. Romanes is always anxious to do full justice to 'the other side,' and his spirit and manner are truly Darwinian—that is to say, truly scientific. . . . We repeat, that Dr. Romanes's book is one of the most remarkable and valuable of the year;—it is a book not only for believers in Darwinism, but also for students and opponents."—Weekly Bulletin.

MAKING BREAD DEAR.

A Controversy between "Wheelbarrow" and "Sympathiser" upon Corners and the Board of Trade, with reference to the Labor Question. 32 pages. Paper, 10 cents.

THE FREE TRADE STRUGGLE IN ENGLAND.

Second edition, revised and enlarged. 296 pages. Cloth, 75 cents; paper, 25 cents.

A timely book on the tariff question, of which Mr. Edward Atkinson says, in an article entitled "Common Sense Applied to the Tariff Question" (Popular Science Monthly, August, 1890):

"It would be well worth while for any one who has been misled by the common errors about the influences which brought Great Britain to reverse her policy in 1842, to read up the economic history of that period. The best summary is to be found in the little book published in Chicago in 1884, by Gen. M. M. Trumbull, entitled 'The American Lesson of the Free Trade Struggle in England.' In this book will be found the whole record of the condition of England from 1838 to 1846. This history ought to be read by every man who desires to make up his mind how to act in this country at the present time. The logic of events is the same. We are repeating history."

WHEELBARROW: ARTICLES AND DISCUSSIONS ON THE LABOR QUESTION.

With portrait of the author. 300 pages. Cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents.

"Chicago presses have issued many books of more or less importance upon the labor question, but none which contains more hard common sense and practical wisdom than the volume entitled 'Wheelbarrow'."—Chicago Times.

"The brief essays are written with vivacity and wit, and with a Cobbett-like terseness of English and felicity of illustration."—Home Journal, New York.

"His papers are all distinguished by shrewd common sense."—Graphic, London

"That Wheelbarrow has studied the Labor Question in all its bearings, and studied it profoundly, there cannot be a shadow of doubt."—Belford's Magazine.

TURNER, J. B.

THE ONLY GOOD THING IN ALL THE WORLDS.

With pamphlet entitled "Universal Law and Its Opposites." Cloth. 176 pages. Price, $1.00.

Of this work of Professor Turner, the Chicago Times says:

"The central idea of this work is that Christ came into this world and died, not instead of, or in any possible way as an atonement for men, but for their good, as a teacher of eternal truth, . . . emphasised for all times by the tragedy of his life and death."

THE AMERICAN SYSTEM OF SHORTHAND

CATALOG

Phonographic Works

BY

BENN PITMAN AND JEROME B. HOWARD.

PUBLISHED BY THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO.,
CINCINNATI, O.

To supply the increasing demand for stenographers, schools of shorthand and type writing hav been established in various parts of the country, and, with few exceptions, all business colleges now hav a "department of shorthand." A number of systems ar taught, but that of Benn Pitman is more generally used than any other in this country, and may be called the "American System."—Extract from the Report of the Commissioner of Education (Washington, D. C.), for the Year 1887–88, page 927.

From the point of view of a court reporter, I feel that we need at least one system by which a writer can take every word and all of the most rapid examination, and if we hav it not in the Benn Pitman, I doubt if we hav it at all. True, we may hav it in other systems, but I speak from knowledge and experience, and not of "maybes" or suppositions. That this is the opinion of most of the court reporters, among whom I think the expert writers of shorthand ar to be found, is not to be doubted, nor am I loath to say that, generally speaking, the law stenographer is at times put to as severe tests as anyone who follows the calling of shorthand writer.—John B. Carey, Official Reporter Supreme Court, Kings County, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Haman is advanced. and ESTHER. III. IV. seeketh to destroy the Jews.

nothing but what Hegai the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the women, appointed. And Esther obtained favour in the sight of all them that looked upon her.

16 So Esther was taken unto king Ahasuerus into his house royal in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.

17 And the king loved Esther above all the women, and she obtained grace and favour in his sight more than all the virgins; so that he set the royal crown upon her head, and made her queen instead of Vashti.

18 Then the king made a great feast unto all his princes and his servants, even Esther's feast; and he made a release to the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the state of the king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the second time, then Mordecai sat in the king's gate

20 Esther had not yet shewed her kindred nor her people; as Mordecai had charged her: for Esther did the commandment of Mordecai, like as when she was brought up

8 ¶ And Haman said unto king Ahasuerus, There is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the people in all the provinces of thy kingdom; and their laws are diverse from all people; neither keep they the king's laws: therefore it is not for the king's profit to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it be written that they may be destroyed: and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver to the hands of those that have the charge of the business, to bring it into the king's treasuries.

10 And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews' enemy.

11 And the king said unto Haman, The silver is given to thee, the people also, to do with them as it seemeth good to thee.

12 Then were the king's scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first month, and there was written according to all that Haman had commanded unto the king's Manoah and his wife. JUDGES, 14. Samson killeth a lion.

10 And the woman made haste, and ran, and shewed her husband, and said unto him, Behold, the man hath appeared unto me, that came unto me the other day.
11 And Manoah arose, and went after his wife, and came to the man, and said unto him, Art thou the man that spakest unto the woman? And he said, I am.
12 And Manoah said, Now let thy words come to pass. How shall we order the child, and how shall we do unto him?
13 And the angel of the LORD said unto Manoah, Of all that I said unto the woman let her beware.
14 She may not eat of any thing that cometh of the vine, neither let her drink wine or strong drink, nor eat any unclean thing: all that I commanded her let her observe.
15 ¶ And Manoah said unto the angel of

AND Samson went down to Timnath, and saw a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philistines.
2 And he came up, and told his father and his mother, and said, I have seen a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philistines: now therefore get her for me to wife.
3 Then his father and his mother said unto him, Is there never a woman among the daughters of thy brethren, or among all my people, that thou goest to take a wife of the uncircumcised Philistines? And Samson said unto his father, Get her for me; for she pleaseth me well.
4 But his father and his mother knew not that it was of the LORD, that he sought an occasion against the Philistines: for at that time the Philistines had dominion over Israel.

Treachery of the Keilites. I. SAMUEL, 24. David spareth Saul's life.

said to Abiathar the priest, Bring hither the ephod.

10 Then said David, O LORD God of Israel, thy servant hath certainly heard that Saul seeketh to come to Keilah, to destroy the city for my sake.

11 Will the men of Keilah deliver me up into his hand? will Saul come down, as thy servant hath heard? O LORD God of Israel, of Maon. And when Saul heard that, he pursued after David in the wilderness of Maon.

26 And Saul went on this side of the mountain, and David and his men on that side of the mountain: and David made haste to get away for fear of Saul; for Saul and his men compassed David and his men round about to take them.

27 ¶ But there came a messenger unto Saul,

The New Cambridge Companion to the Bible.

OPINIONS AND REVIEWS.

FROM THE PRESS.

The Cambridge Companion to the Bible will throw all others into the shade. It is written up to the latest scholarship, in all respects up to the highest Biblical knowledge —nothing has been left out.

—British Weekly, May 8, 1893.

It is a Biblical Cyclopedia condensed. It is just the kind of a work an intelligent Christian desires to have at hand.

—The Freeman, May 5, 1893.

If, however, our readers desire one book only, and that a book to bring them fairly abreast of modern research, so far as its results have won widespread acceptance among the learned, the Cambridge Companion, with its capital maps, will be found very satisfactory.—Litany World, May 9, 1893.

A work of infinite value to earnest students of the Holy Scripture. It gives a stupendous mass of information in a comparatively small compass, and gives it with simplicity and lucidness.—Publishers' Circular, May, 1893.

This is an invaluable body of aids to the intelligent study of the Bible. It presents the results of research and criticism to the English reader accurately and with wonderful fullness. We cannot conceive of any careful reader of the Scriptures failing to find this book a constant and trustworthy help.

—Presbyterian.

The number of eminent writers who have assisted in the work is sufficient to place the Companion among the best of its class, and give it the stamp of authority.

—Cambridge Independent.

The Cambridge Teachers' Bible contains in one beautifully bound volume the text of Holy Scripture together with the "Cambridge Companion to the Bible." Dr. Lumley is the general editor. We cannot too strongly urge all teachers, whether in the day or Sunday school, to add this book to their libraries.

—School Guardian, May, 1893.

FROM BIBLE STUDENTS.

I know of no book in English or in any other language which represents so thoroughly the very soundest and best modern Biblical scholarship as does this Companion.—Rev. Robert W. Rogers, Doctor of Philosophy and Professor in Dickinson College, Carlisle, Penn., June 5, 1893.

I feel profoundly thankful that so much invaluable information on Bible matters should be placed so easily within reach of all; a Library so complete and varied that it really seems as if nothing could be added; more knowledge on Scriptural Subjects than was contained in all the great volumes of our fathers. Such a book demands the grateful acknowledgement of every Bible-reader.—Rev. Mark Guy Pearse.

The Bible is beautifully and clearly printed, and with its scholarly and full "Companion" will be of great service to teachers and students.—Rev. Principal Cave.

The Companion to the Bible which accompanies the sacred volume—written as it is by Bishop Westcott and a company of tried Scholars—is a Treasure-House of useful and interesting sacred Lore. I rejoice at such a noble work being placed within the reach of our countless army of Sunday-School Teachers.—Dean of Gloucester.

In the Cambridge Teachers' Bible the Editor has secured the co-operation of some of the most eminent of living Biblical scholars, and they have produced what might be described without exaggeration as a Biblical Encyclopædia. The maps are most admirable; the type is wonderfully clear; and the colouring greatly assists the eye in mastering the outlines of the various divisions of the countries represented.—Rev. R. W. Dale, D.D.

A glance at the contents of the new Cambridge Companion is sufficient to shew what a mass of valuable information is brought together in brief compass.—Bishop of Moray and Ross.

11 The house of the wicked shall be overthrown:
But the tent of the upright shall flourish.
12 There is a way which [1]seemeth right unto a man.
But the end thereof are the ways of death.
13 Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful;
And the end of mirth is heaviness.
14 The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways:
And a good man shall be satisfied from himself.
15 The simple believeth every word:
But the prudent man looketh well to his going.
16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil:
But the fool beareth himself insolently, and is confident.
17 He that is soon angry will deal foolishly:
But the righteous [10]hath hope in his death.
33 Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding:
[11]But that which is in the inward part of fools is made known.
34 Righteousness exalteth a nation:
But sin is a reproach to [12]any people.
35 The king's favour is toward a servant that dealeth wisely:
But his wrath shall be against him that [13]causeth shame.
15 A soft answer turneth away wrath:
But a grievous word stirreth up anger.
2 The tongue of the wise uttereth knowledge aright:
But the mouth of fools poureth out folly.
3 The eyes of the LORD are in every place.

NEW YORK:

JAMES POTT & CO.

The Highest Authorities Describe it as by Far the Best.

"We are often asked, 'What edition of the Bible is the best for practical use by a student or teacher? To this we answer that we consider the new edition of the Bagster Bible as the most convenient in form, the clearest in print, and the best in its tables and helps of any that we have yet seen. The editor uses it himself, and recommends it to readers who wish to obtain a new Bible."—Rev. Dr. Hurlbut, successor to Bishop J. H. Vincent in editing S. S. Magazine, Our Youth, etc.

"The superior excellence of the 'Bagster' is seen in 'The Comprehensive Helps to Bible Study' which are found in the back part of the book. These comprise sufficient matter of the most valuable character to fill four good-sized 12mo volumes. In the 'Contents' of the 'Oxford Helps' there are 582 subjects noted; in the 'Bagster' there are 1860. This will give an idea of the fullness of information given."—Christian Advocate, Rev. S. McGerald, D.D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"Will probably prove the most popular of all the teachers' Bibles on the market. Almost every teacher and student will choose the Bagster."—Michigan Christian Advocate, January, 1889.

"Foremost among the Lesson Helps for next year is a serviceable Bible, and such is the 'Bagster Comprehensive.'"—Rev. H. T. School, Presbyterian.

"The Book is a marvel of lithographical perfection and the new feature of Bible Helps is itself worth several times the price of the book."—Bishop J. H. Vincent, Sept., 1888.

"I regard this edition, all things considered, as the most helpful yet issued. Since I study the interest of the people, I shall take pleasure in recommending this Bible to them."—Rev. R. G. Pearson, of Philadelphia.

"I do not see what more can be realized in the way of convenience, completeness, compactness and durability, than may be found in this edition, which to all these other qualities adds beauty of finish, to complete the sum of possible excellence".—Earl Cranston, of Chicago.

"I know of nothing so practically convenient and valuable as this 'Comprehensive Teachers' edition.' The print, the binding, the paper and the character of the Helps appended, all commend it to general use."—Rev. Basil Manly, D.D., LL.D.

"I very heartily commend the new Bagster's Comprehensive Teachers' Bible as most useful and helpful to all Bible readers and especially to ministers and Sunday-school teachers."—H. Harvey, Prof. Pastoral Theology.

"It is a marvellous compendium, containing a library of information useful and scholarly, and exquisitely printed."—The Dean of Gloucester.

"It is a marvel of completeness. Nothing seems to be wanting."—Professor Sayce.

52 And all wept, and bewailed her: but he said, Weep not; she is not dead, but sleepeth.

DAILY PRAYER—EVENING. 15

5 When in the night I sleepless lie,
My soul with heavenly thoughts supply;
Let no ill dreams disturb my rest,
No powers of darkness me molest.

6 Oh, when shall I, in endless day,
Forever chase dark sleep away,
And hymns divine with angels sing,
All praise to Thee, eternal King?

7 Praise God, from Whom all blessings flow;
Praise Him, all creatures here below;
Praise Him above, angelic host:
Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

16 DAILY PRAYER—EVENING.

20 C. M.

NOW from the altar of our hearts
Let flames of love arise;
Assist us, Lord, to offer up
Our evening sacrifice.

2 Minutes and mercies multiplied
Have made up all this day;
Minutes came quick, but mercies were
More swift, more free than they.

3 New time, new favors, and new joys
Do a new song require;

At first her cousins dislike the idea of Dolly coming to live with them, because she is a girl. But she makes herself so pleasant and useful that they soon can do nothing without her help. Dolly's 'great ambition' is to do something heroic for her uncle, whom she loves very much. At last the occasion she so ardently desired comes. . . ." —Saturday Review.

The Great Commentary and Teachers' Help to the Study of the Bible.
An entirely new edition, revised throughout and largely re-written.
Illustrated. Printed from a new set of Plates.

Hours with the Bible;

Or, the Scriptures in the light of modern knowledge. By Cunningham Geikie, D.D., LL.D. Entirely new edition, revised and largely re-written. Printed from new plates, on special paper. Beautifully bound in maroon cloth, gilt lettering. 6 vols., in box. Price, $7.50.

The great advance in every branch of Biblical knowledge which has marked the ten years during which HOURS WITH THE BIBLE have been before the world, has necessarily thrown much fresh light on the Sacred Records from many sources; elucidating and illuminating countless points hitherto imperfectly understood or wholly overlooked. This new edition is the fruit of continuous effort through successive years. Since the original edition was published, I have travelled in Egypt, the Holy Land and Syria, and have been able to give descriptions of various localities in the Bible Story from personal knowledge.

Each volume contains a copious index, list of authorities quoted, and complete table of contents. About 500 pages to the vol.

PROF. R. W. ROGERS, of Dickinson College, one of the most learned Biblical scholars of this country, writes: This new edition of Geikie's HOURS WITH THE BIBLE is the best introduction to Biblical history accessible. I wish most heartily that every Christian preacher and every Sunday School teacher could at once read its eloquent and stirring pages—from it there would most certainly come forth stronger expository preaching and wiser and more fruitful instruction in the Bible.

In the interest of the Church and of Christian education, I trust it may have an extensive sale.

of the Book of Common Prayer, the New Standard of 1892, are authorized editions printed from entirely new plates. The same may be said of the "Hymnal Revised and Enlarged," as adopted by the Convention of 1892. These New Standards supersede all previous editions, and are the books adopted for future use in the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Cambridge White Paper

is noted for being of medium weight, pure white in color, and opaque. It has great strength and durability, and excellent presswork is produced upon it.

Cambridge India Paper

is made by the great firm of Dickenson & Co. at their Crosley Mills in England. It is the result of years of study, producing a very thin, opaque paper, that receives the ink without showing through the page. It is of a rich, mellow color, pleasant to the eye, making a very thin book of wonderful lightness, yet of great strength and durability.

Cambridge Bindings

are done at Mason House by B. Collins & Sons, who now lead their profession as leather binders, their facilities being the largest in the world and their prestige unquestioned. For care in finish, and beauty and strength of binding, their books are recognized as the best that can be produced.

These Editions are the Best for Retail and Wholesale Purposes.

AN INSPIRATION TO BOTH TEACHER AND SCHOLAR

POTTER'S GRAND NEW SERIES OF GEOGRAPHIES

MATHEMATICAL, PHYSICAL, AND POLITICAL

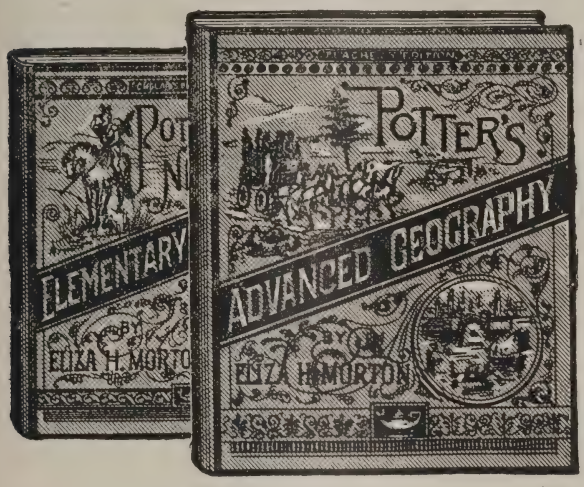
DESIGNED FOR PRIMARY, INTERMEDIATE, AND ADVANCED CLASSES

By MISS ELIZA H. MORTON

LATE TEACHER OF GEOGRAPHICAL SCIENCE IN THE NORMAL DEPARTMENT OF BATTLE CREEK COLLEGE, MICH.

The Charm of these Books.

The Series comprises two books—an Elementary and an Advanced. They are written by a practical teacher, who has made the teaching and study of Geography her life work. Her ideas are in touch with the very latest and most advanced thought, and she has invested the subject with an interest and a charm heretofore unknown. The older Geographies deal mainly in dry facts, which appeal to the memory alone and leave the pupils' mind in a state of hopeless, if not helpless, confusion. In these books mechanical memorizing is broken up. The pupil is taught how to study, and how to use his book. The wonders of earth, sea, and air are all drawn upon to kindle and continue his interest. He looks out upon the broad world, and finds it full of beauty. Mathematical, physical, and political geography are all thoroughly taught by Miss Morton's methods. Thought is aroused and quickened, the mind is developed, curiosity awakened, and the science thoroughly interwoven with the pupils' every-day life. Its great principles are made so simple, so plain, and so practical that the pupil is charmed with their beauty, and encouraged at all times to search for new ideas and new facts bearing upon this interesting subject.



REDUCED IMPRESSIONS

The Teachers' Notes.

The Teachers' Notes in both these books are invaluable aids in making the study attractive. The teacher is here shown how to supplement the work of the pupils by interesting information, explanations, descriptions, and illustrations, all of which is given in these notes. Blackboard illustrations are made an important auxiliary. The teacher is shown how to give vivid oral descriptions of places. More pleasing than the tales of fiction are the wonders of the world in which we live. Arabian fables are not more thrilling to the young mind than descriptions of real life in foreign lands. Vivid word paintings are allowable, and are here given. They quicken the pupils' imagination, cultivate a taste for the beautiful, and appeal to the higher faculties of the mind. Even poetry, with its refining influence and practical aid, is enlisted, to some extent, in this work. His field is the world, and the teacher is here shown how to select, improve, adapt, and make all these devices to aid him in his work and to inspire his pupils. There can be no apathetic scholars where Potter's Geographies are used. Even an inexperienced teacher, with a helpful book, may do fair work, and rapidly improve; but a poor teacher, with a poor book, must be a comparative failure.

Unique Points.

The Elementary Geography is the result of the most painstaking research, and the ideas embodied in it were verified and made practical by actual class work. Its plan is new, and has received the cordial approval of the most eminent educators. It is liberally illustrated with maps and engravings, and makes an unique, handsome and attractive book. Introduction prices:

THE ELEMENTARY GEOGRAPHY { Pupils' Edition, . . . $ .60
Teachers' Edition, . . . 1.00

The Advanced Geography completes the series. It treats of mathematical, physical, and political geography. Among its new and novel features are seven full-page relief maps, executed in color, and showing the great slopes and drainage of the Globe. It has six physical charts in color, illustrating the physical features of the earth, while its political and commercial maps are numerous and beautifully executed. There is an illuminated title page, and a full-page, finely executed, chromatic frontispiece, called "The Wonderful World in which we Live," representing varied and attractive scenes in different countries. The flags of all nations are also given, and are printed in colors. The census reports for 1890 are very full and complete. The introduction prices are as follows:

THE ADVANCED GEOGRAPHY . { Pupils' Edition, . . $1.25
Teachers' Edition, . . 1.50

Both the Elementary and Advanced books are a pleasing departure from the beaten track. Worn-out ideas and old-time illustrations find no place here. All is new, bright, interesting, instructive, and practical. Either book sent, post-paid, on receipt of the introduction price named above.

Full descriptive circulars sent free on application, containing published letters, commendations from leading educators in public and private schools and colleges throughout the country, who are now using these books.

McELROY'S ETYMOLOGY.

COMPRISING THE

HISTORY OF WORDS, THEIR DERIVATION, COMPOSITION, RELATIONSHIP, ETC.

By JOHN G. R. McELROY,

Professor of Rhetoric and English Language in the University of Pennsylvania.

HANDSOMELY BOUND IN CLOTH. PRICE, 75 CENTS.

It revolutionizes the teaching of Etymology; it is simple and clear; it is modern; it is complete; it is taught in an interesting way, and it makes every etymological law, truth and process clear and comprehensible.

BELLOW'S NEW GEOMETRY.

ELEMENTS OF GEOMETRY.

A New System of Presentation for School and College Use.

By C. F. R. BELLOWS, M.A., C.E.,

Professor of Mathematics, Michigan State Normal School.

HANDSOMELY BOUND IN CLOTH, 12 mo. PRICE, $1.25.

The theories introduced into the text proper are those only which are links in the chain of connections, or which are needed in the development of the system. The number of practical questions and exercises extending throughout the work are an especial feature, as also are the large number of problems of construction at the close of the several books.

The demonstrations are purely geometrical; algebraical forms are avoided. The book is logical not only in methods but in arrangement, and the classification adopted will be found much more natural than the usual highly artificial system, and more serviceable in aiding the retentive powers of the learner.

I have been using "Bellow's Elements of Geometry" the past year with exceeding satisfactory results. The arrangement of the book is far superior to that of any other book on the subject I have ever examined. I find it admirably adapted to class work. It inspires to original and independent effort on the part of each individual student.—W. W. CHALMERS, Superintendent of Schools, High School, Cassopolis, Michigan.

THE NEWEST

AND FAR SURPASSING ANY OTHER BOTANY NOW PUBLISHED.

KELLERMAN'S ELEMENTS OF BOTANY.

EMBRACING

Organography, Histology, Vegetable Physiology, Systematic Botany and Economic Botany.

Professor of Botany and Zoology in the Kansas State Agricultural College.

ARRANGED FOR SCHOOL USE OR INDEPENDENT STUDY.

PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED. HANDSOMELY BOUND, 12mo. PRICE, $1.25.

The plan of the work must commend itself to teachers and students alike. The author has kept in view always his purpose of showing the practical value of botanical knowledge.

The book presents a comprehensive view of the vegetable kingdom in a condensed form. This includes a general survey of the organs of plants, their structure and functions, the classification of plants according to their supposed genetic relationship, and, finally, of the uses of plants and the application of botanical knowledge in the various pursuits of life.

BY JAMES BALDWIN, PH. D.,

Author of "Baldwin's English Literature;" late Superintendent of Schools, Huntingdon, Indiana.

It is in advance of all works hitherto published on this subject to make real students of literature.—PROF. S. LOOMIS, Principal of Brainerd Institute, Chester, S. C.

Prof. Baldwin has fully caught the new idea of bringing the pupil face to face with the writer through his works, and his book is an admirable introduction to a course of readings from our literature, or a companion through such a course.—PROF. JOHN G. R. MCELROY, A. M., Professor of Rhetoric and the English Language, University of Pennsylvania.

HOW SALVATOR WON

AND OTHER RECITATIONS

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

One of the peculiarities of Mrs. Wilcox's poems is their special suitability for public recitation. Nearly every poem contains a story of intense human interest, and it must be a very poor reader indeed who does not succeed with it before an audience. This book is a collection of all of Mrs. Wilcox's poems that are particularly good for this purpose. Many of the recitations were written expressly for it, and all of the poems have been chosen especially for their dramatic possibilities and for their giving reciters a better chance to exercise their elocutionary powers. The book also contains the autograph and the latest portrait of Mrs. Wilcox.

These selections have been edited with much care by Prof. Fenno, who is thoroughly acquainted with the various tastes and capacities of readers of all ages, and with the field of literature best suited to this purpose. The need of variety and general usefulness has been kept steadily in view. The pieces are all of a high character. A judicious variety of prose and poetry, of humor, pathos and tragedy. Those best adapted for elocutionary purposes have been chosen in each case. Many pieces are original and appear for the first time in these volumes.

Each piece is explained in a brief analysis, and the appropriate gestures are indicated by figures referring to foot-notes. Each number is prefaced with a practical essay on some branch of elocution. The books are uniform in appearance. The type is large and clear, the paper good, and the size handy. Numbers 4 and 8 contain Fifty Dialogues each—the finest collection of Dialogues published. "OXFORD" THIN PAPER EDITIONS

THE MARVELS OF THE AGE IN BIBLE PUBLISHING

The Wonderful Lightness of these Books, the clear type, the strength and excellence of binding, combine to place them far in advance of any other Teachers' Bibles now published.

The Super-Snowflake Paper used for the "Oxford" thin editions of Bibles is a specialty of our house, and is used exclusively for our "Oxford" Bibles. Its characteristics are extreme lightness and softness, and an agreeable tone. The strength and flexibility of the fibre are so great that the paper may be used for years without becoming injured by wear, and the material is so peculiar that it can be made to a degree of thinness only limited by the possibilities of printing. This paper is beautifully soft to the touch. The "Oxford" thin paper has been manufactured in order to meet the popular demand for thin books, and is admitted to be without a rival.

The publishers would call attention more especially to this edition of their Teachers' Bible, for the reason that it presents, in the most complete and convenient form, that which no American edition of a Teachers' Bible ever contained. The convenient arrangement of the text with interspersed references and copious notes, together with the illustrated and Explanatory Dictionary, peculiarly adapt the edition to the use of teachers, and especially to those who may not have a Bible Dictionary convenient at hand at all times. The Comprehensive Aids, the Compilation of Dr. Blackwood, a most eminent and distinguished bibliologist, places in their hands the most ready and complete medium to the proper study and comprehension of the Holy Scriptures. The edition is printed on a fine quality of paper, and bound in neat, durable and attractive styles.

The work is divided into three parts:

There is and has been a great and pressing want for a work like the Speaker's Favorite. We have at enormous expense produced a work that will meet the highest expectations, and it cannot fail to produce the very best results.

The work comprises the very best and latest productions of the most popular English and American writers of to-day, together with the choicest selections of standard literature adapted to reading in public and private, and is so arranged as to make it the most valuable collection of choice pieces ever published. Thoroughly practical and highly instructive, this matter is of inestimable value to those whose knowledge of the art of elocution is limited.

These selections have been edited with much care by Prof. Fenno, who is thoroughly cquainted with the various tastes and capacities of readers of all ages, and with the field of iterature best suited to this purpose. The need of variety and general usefulness has been kept teadily in view. The pieces are all of a high character. A judicious variety of prose and poetry, f humor, pathos and tragedy, those best adapted for elocutionary purposes, have been chosen in ach case. Many pieces are original, and appear for the first time in this volumes.

Prof. O. W. Gleason's Veterinary Hand-Book

—AND—

System of Horse Taming

An exhaustive treatise on VETERINARY SCIENCE, including Diseases of Horses, Cattle, Swine, Sheep, Poultry, Dogs, Birds, etc., with minute directions for the treatment and cure of all maladies to which domestic animals are subject. Veterinary Recipes and Prescriptions that have been tried and found effective in the practice of the most noted and successful American Veterinary Surgeons, including Doctors Jennings, McClure, Gleason and others.

This invaluable work is intended for the MASSES—not as a text-book for veterinary colleges—hence, the language is plain, simple and direct; adapted to the understanding of the ordinary farm hand or stock raiser. It contains more information that is PRACTICALLY USEFUL to the stock raiser than any other work we know of costing three or four times as much money. The general scope of this splendid new book may be seen by the following list of the general headings, viz.:

PART I.

Prof. Gleason's Veterinary Hand-Book

Causes and Principles of Disease and general observations on symptoms and how to detect and observe them.

Diseases of the Horse.—Their nature, symptoms, cause and treatment.

Diseases of Cattle.—With methods of treatment for ordinary diseases as well as epidemics.

Diseases of Sheep.—Adapted to the wants of sheep farmers in all sections of the country.

Diseases of Poultry.—Embracing many valuable hints on prevention of disease and precaution against contagion.

Diseases of Swine.—With many useful hints on management.

Diseases of Dogs.—With numerous prescriptions and instructions as to feeding, how to administer medicines, etc.

Diseases of Birds.—With directions for construction of cages, feeding, mating and breeding, teaching to sing, etc.

A Veterinary materia medica, describing all the various remedies, stating their uses and effects, with dose for various cases.

Veterinary Prescriptions and Preparations.—Formulas for making drenches, washes, lotions, liniments, ointments, powders, plasters, etc., with instructions for use.

PART II.

Prof. Gleason's System of Horse Training

Intelligence and Memory of the Horse.

Apparatus for Training.—Describes the simple implements required.

Bad Habits of the Horse and How to Control Them.—Kicking, cribbing, biting, balking, shying, lugging on the bit, halter pulling, etc., easily overcome.

Fear and Monomania in Horses.—Showing that many bad traits may be ascribed to a sort of equine insanity—very interesting.

Breaking and Training of Colts so as to avoid the rearing of fractious and dangerous animals. Directions can be applied by any farmer's boy.

Whip Training.—How to teach a horse to drive without either bit or line.

How to Make a Horse Trot Square.—With simple apparatus that insures good results.

Trick Horses.—How to teach a horse to sit up, lie down, bow, answer questions, shake hands, waltz, and perform various tricks that are regarded as wonderful, but which are, in reality, very easily taught.

Hints upon Horse Shoeing.—Showing the errors of most blacksmiths, evil effects of improper shoeing, how to avoid quarter cracks, corns and contracted heels, etc. Worth $50.00 to any horse owner or horse shoer.

Short Pointers for Horsemen.—Pithy scraps on miscellaneous topics well worth careful perusal.

This splendid book has only to be shown to be sold. The demand for a thoroughly practical work of this kind at a reasonable price has always existed, but has never before been satisfactorily filled.

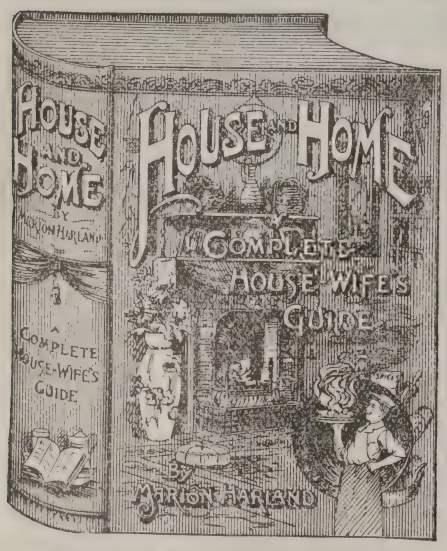
HOUSE AND HOME

Is a subject in which everybody is interested. We all want good homes and good dinners. Every housekeeper wants to know how to make them. Every man would like his wife to be the best housekeeper in the county, and will buy this book for her.

MARION HARLAND

Has a WORLD-WIDE REPUTATION; is a recognized authority in all domestic affairs, and is, by universal consent, the greatest living writer on home life and home duties. She writes clearly, knows exactly what she wants to say, and how to say it.



7¼ inches wide; 9¾ inches long.

THE BEST WORK OF HER LIFE

is in this book. It is the result of a lifetime of intelligent observation, careful study and experiment. Everything in it is practical and reliable. No woman who has the care of a home can afford to do without it. More than a Quarter of a Million of her former Works have been sold. Everybody is delighted with this, her latest and most comprehensive Household Book. The work opens with an explanation of the difference between

HOUSEKEEPING AND HOME MAKING.

The writing is simple, clear and even affectionate. She takes the tired and often discouraged sister housekeeper by the hand and leads her gently onward from this point, throughout the various stages of

HOUSE FURNISHING AND HOUSE MANAGING,

Cheating the way of weariness by vivacious chat, incident and kindly words that make each Chapter read like a bright story. She treats of JOHN'S WAYS. JOHN'S TRIALS, and JOHN'S RIGHTS in such appreciative fashion as recommends her to the grateful good-will of the other sex; sympathizes with, while lecturing,

"OUR GIRLS" and "OUR BOYS"

Instructs her fellow-workers how to control their servants. Treats of the literary life of the Household,

The Etiquette of Family Life;

Tells how to behave when visiting and when visited; how to get rid of flies, and to furnish forth lunch baskets and dinner pails; how to order and cook and serve the homely deliciousness of the

Thanksgiving Dinner and the more sumptuous Christmas Feast

Sits down by the cradle for a serious loving talk with the anxious mother; tells what our children eat and what is the effects of diet upon them now and in after life; and shows up in merry vein the vagaries of the American kitchen. The second part of the Book is devoted exclusively to cookery, and gives

OVER 500 NEW RECIPES,

ARRANGED IN BILLS OF FARE

For Breakfast, Luncheon and Dinner, with exact references to season and market, saving many an hour of vexing thought to the inexperienced house-wife. 125 adapted to SPRING; 125 to SUMMER; 125 to AUTUMN; 125 to WINTER.

They are all new and practical, and so clearly expressed that a child might follow them. While the dishes therein described are selected with a careful regard to moderate incomes, each is as dainty as if designed for an epicure's table. The Maltese Cross which marks the choice recipes in MARION HARLAND'S other Cook Books, might be set above each of those she has here classed and written down for the further benefit of a generation of housekeepers she has done more to serve and elevate than any other living woman.

The Problem of How to Make Every-Day Living Good Living, was never more satisfactory solved than in these pages, and under the magic touch of the author every-day homely duties cease to be drudgery, and become dignified and enobled. Contains handsomely printed on good heavy paper, from copper-faced plates made from large new type purchased especially for this book. 27 FULL-PAGE ENGRAVINGS from original designs, suggested by MARION HARLAND, and drawn under her direction by leading artists of Philadelphia and New York. ALSO 4 COLORED PLATES, handsomely printed in seven colors, and showing how to artistically serve (1) roasts and broils, (2) meats and vegetables, (3) fruits and desserts, (4) puddings, jellies and ices. These plates, in colors, are all costly and striking, and add greatly to the beauty and value of the book.

OVER 500 LARGE ROYAL PAGES,

THE UNITED STATES SECRET SERVICE

IN THE LATE WAR,

BY

Gen. La Fayette C. Baker,

ORGANIZER AND FIRST CHIEF OF THE NATIONAL SECRET SERVICE BUREAU OF THE UNITED STATES.

A GRAPHIC HISTORY OF THRILLING EXPERIENCES.

An Exposure of the Manifold and Gigantic Frauds and Crimes Practiced in the most Extraordinary and Perilous Times the Republic has Ever Known.

Each Incident Becomes a Picturesque Story of the Most Absorbing Interest, and it will be Read with Keener Zest than any Romance ever Written.

So Romantic are Many of the Details, that they Seem Hard to Believe, yet Every Incident Related is True.

General Baker, while active in the discharge of duties that called forth almost Superhuman Cunning and Daring, was a careful observer of men and a Student of the Times, as well as of his surroundings. He was thus, of all men, specially qualified for the work he has so well and nobly written. He has produced, in the "United States Secret Service," a book of such really marvelous interest, historical value and exceedingly great literary excellence that it must at once occupy, and for time henceforth retain, the front rank in public appreciation and national importance.

The Secret Burial Place of John Wilkes Booth, the Assassin, is herein disclosed.

General Baker was the only living man who held this secret, the body having been turned over to him after the post-mortem examination, on the United States gunboat, by the Secretary of War. The disposition of the body, so long a secret, is here made public for the first time.

A Work Absolutely Indispensable to Every Woman,

AND

THE ONLY RELIABLE WORK OF ITS KIND EVER PUBLISHED.

The authors have undertaken the preparation of this work at the suggestion of many ladies, and with characteristic modesty have taken up the subject in all its intricate bearings, using plain language that cannot be misunderstood. Having enjoyed advantages possessed by few other physicians in the United States, they have brought to bear the experience of years of devotion to their noble calling, and drawn from the best sources, past and present, to produce a work worthy of the careful consideration and study of the mothers and daughters of our land.

It is the province of this work to dispel the ignorance which has for ages made woman the slave of caprice and sensuality, and to define her true sphere of action as the Divine Creator contemplated it. For ages the cry of despairing women has gone up for that knowledge of themselves so long denied them, and the era which emancipates them from the degrading thraldom will prove one of untold blessing conferred. Through the educating influence of "The Ladies' New Medical Guide" woman has placed within her reach the medium through which she can secure that which has hitherto been denied her—the ability to attain a higher physical perfection, and with it the highest and best development of her mental, social and physical attributes.

It is a large and handsome octavo volume of about 700 pages, printed on the finest book paper, and elegantly and substantially bound.

Brilliant ✻ Dazzling ✻ Romantic

As history, they exceed in richness of color and boldness of outline all other records of human action, and constitute a study which even the youngest and most casual reader cannot afford to neglect.

The history of these Holy Wars, with their countless battles and sieges, fills many ponderous volumes. The causes which led up to the fiery Christian outburst are distinctly traced. These are in themselves, and one most inviting to every reader. Indeed, no reader can afford to be unfamiliar with them, who seeks to know anything of the time when Christendom was in its throes, and when modern civilization hung suspended in a balance.

There are times and circumstances when the necessary legal counsel cannot be had; circumstances which render it advisable to be one's own legal counsellor; there are matters of minor importance which may not justify or require the expense of a legal consultation; there are private affairs which it may be neither prudent nor desirable to disclose, business difficulties, enterprises, ventures and vexed questions which constantly demand some knowledge of the law to successfully master, and which are otherwise fruitful of annoyance, distress and doubt.

This book gives the sources of the law in every instance; it is like a good bank account, drafts upon it are always honored. It is

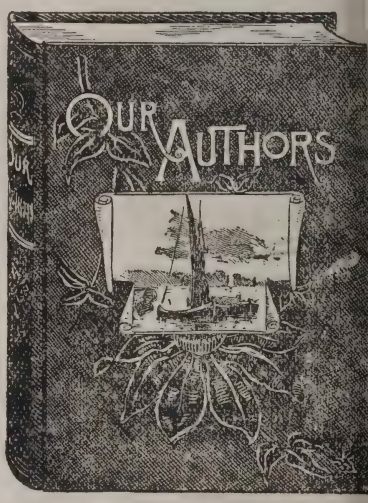
OUR AUTHORS

A Cyclopedia of Literary People

BY

FRANK McALPINE.



OUR AUTHORS takes the reader over the entire literary field and introduces him to the representative men and women in its various departments. A concise sketch is given of each author and everything of interest noted, giving the events of the author's life in chronological order. Realizing that to fully appreciate and understand the writings of an author, it is necessary that we know him personally—know his peculiarities, whims, etc.—we have added the portraits of more than fifty of the popular writers. This feature is probably more appreciated than any other in the book, because no other volume gives these portraits. Teachers and students find it an indispensable help in the study of literature.

BIBLE TALKS WITH CHILDREN

Or, The Scriptures Simplified for the Young,

With Lessons Drawn from the Actual Sayings of Childhood

By Rev. J. L. SCOY, A. M.

Illustrated with 178 Full-Page Engravings.

THIS work is not made up of lectures and addresses to the children; but the author sits down with the little ones and talks with and not to them. He knows how to talk small, but does not use "small talk." His language is childlike, but not childish. One of the of the work consists in the moral lessons which follow each "Talk" drawn from the actual sayings of childhood. The author lets the boys and girls suggest these lessons. In most instances, during the preparation of the book, he has sought out children and talked with them about the pictures, and thus gotten the lessons which are incorporated in the work. This gives a freshness and naturalness to the book. The magnificent engravings not only add to the beauty and attractiveness of the volume, but illustrate to the mind of childhood the Scripture story even more accurately than words could do.

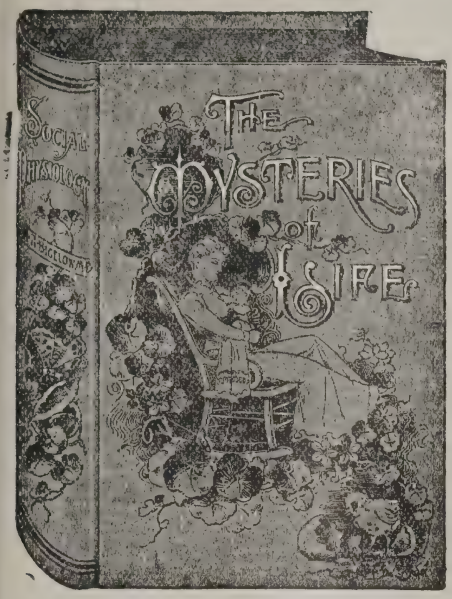
SOCIAL PHYSIOLOGY

—OR—

Familiar Talks on the Mysteries of Life



And the great Physiological and Sociological Questions of the Day, by Horatio R. Bigelow, M. D.

The subjects treated in this book are of the greatest importance to the whole human race—men, women and children. The questions discussed are those that lie at the very foundation of morals and society. It treats of Personal and Social Physiology and Hygiene; of the proper education of the young of both sexes in the mysteries of life in such a way as to save them from the dangers and of what married people ought to know in order to enjoy life, have sound bodies and produce healthy offspring. It discusses in a bold and fearless manner the great social evils that exist everywhere and gnaw at the very vitals of civilization. Though by a professional man, it is written in language that every one may read and understand. Teachers, Parents and Guardians should read and study it, that they may know their own bodies, and be able to properly teach those entrusted to their care. Education, properly given, alone can save from impurity. The book is pure and chaste in language, and may safely be placed in the hands of the young of either sex. It will prove of inestimable value in their physical and moral life. The work is printed from large, new, clear-faced type, on good paper, in one large octavo volume of nearly 500 pages, illustrated with over 100 engravings. Handsomely bound.

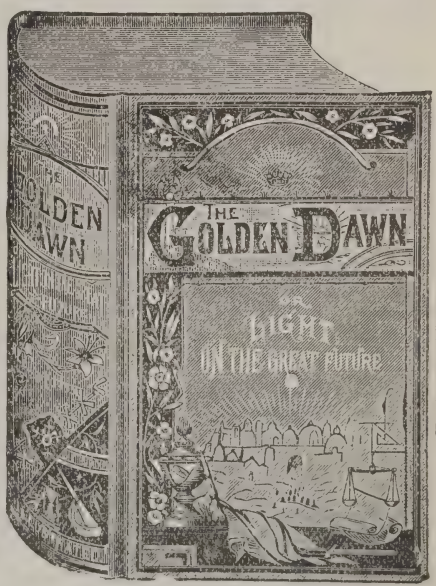
THE GOLDEN DAWN

OR, LIGHT ON THE GREAT FUTURE

IN THIS LIFE, THROUGH THE DARK VALLEY, AND IN THE LIFE ETERNAL,

As seen in the best thoughts of leading Authors and Scholars, among whom are: Bishop Simpson, Bishop Foster, Bishop Warren, Bishop Hurst, Bishop Foss, Joseph Cook, Beecher, Talmage, Dr. Crosby, Dr. Currie, Dr. McCosh, Dr. March, Dr. Cuyler, Geo. D. Prentiss, Dean Stanley, Whittier, Longfellow, and many others. In one volume—nine parts—illustrated. A Grand Book. Refining. Unique. Superb Illustrations.



The Future Has a Charm.

There is no man, woman or child who does not feel an intense interest in the things to come. None are so absorbed with the present as not to turn wistful longing toward the future. Each is saying: When I lay this body down where shall my spirit be? What shall be my experience through the dark valley? When I emerge on the evergreen shore how will things appear to me? What will be the mode of existence beyond? Do the friends who have gone before me know anything of what is transpiring around me now? These, and a thousand other questions, crowd upon the mind. How shall they be answered? Who shall satisfy the yearnings of the heart after a knowledge of last things on earth and first things in heaven? In "Golden Dawn" more than three hundred great authors express their ideas upon the character of the Great Future. Holy men of God, Bishops, Judges, Princes, Soldiers, Statesmen, and renowned authors, testify upon those great questions which have ever engaged the attention of mankind.

It contains over 600 pages and is magnificently illustrated with superb full-page engravings. These illustrations are real gems, and greatly enhance the beauty and value of the work.

ILLUSTRATION FROM "JOHN HOLDEN, UNIONIST."

JOHN HOLDEN, UNIONIST,

A Romance of the Days of Destruction and Reconstruction. By T. C. De Leon. Illustrated with ten full page drawings by Charles Edward Boutwood. 12mo, handsome cloth, $1.50.

This novel has for its motif the wholly new theme of Southern loyalty during the war, its central figure being a brave but bigoted mountaineer, and deals with those troublous days of reconstruction and the impeachment trial of President Johnson.

Press Notices.

The Salt Lake City Tribune says: "Vivid, strong and beautiful in description."

The Charleston News and Courier says: "A vigorous and effective romance and ought to be widely read."

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch says: "The description of Forrest's attack on Streight is told in a most effective manner."

The Boston Gazette says: "The story may be confidently ranked among the very best that have been founded on the war."

The Cleveland Plaindealer says: "The portrait of the old Mountain Unionist is strongly drawn and the story is told with ability."

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Mr. De Leon has given the world of literature a strong story, highly interesting and well worth reading."

The Washington Star says: "A captivating novel written by a man who is in every respect qualified to make pen pictures of Southern people and Southern scenes."

The St. Paul Pioneer Press says: "The coolest reader can hardly restrain a quickening of the pulses as he reads of Jen Freeman's brave ride across the Yankee lines."

The Chicago Times says: "An addition of merit to the literature of the war. * * * No one has written so well as Mr. De Leon of these events and this book is his best."

The Pittsburg Times says: "Holden is a strong character, and is true to life. His fanaticism was born of his traditions, his sufferings and the effect of the awful solitudes upon an untrained intellect. Farmer Freeman is a type of the staunch rebel, and drawn with a rather more loving hand."

The Louisville Courier-Journal says: "In his allegiance to his art Mr. De Leon sacrifices no part of his loyalty to his blood and birth. The moral of his writing is entirely just and sound. But the fact remains—and it is that which is noteworthy—that our interest centers in a Northern rather than a Southern group; and that as for the author we lose all trace of his identity. He might be a Tolstoi or a Turgeneff, if a Russian could be suspected of knowing so much of our inner life."

SIX CENT SAM'S,

A Collection of Interesting Stories of Metropolitan Life. By JULIAN HAWTHORNE. Illustrated with sixty pen sketches by JOHN HENDERSON GARNSEY. 12mo, fancy cloth, $1.25.

Illustration from "Six Cent Sam's."

These stories, gathered under the general title of "Six Cent Sam's" are in Hawthorne's best vein, and are high evidence of his ability as a deft character painter. They are largely the result of his associations with Inspector Byrnes, the well known Vidocq of New York, who initiated him fully into the mysteries of criminal operations, and gave him glimpses of life in Gotham which could not otherwise have been obtained in detail by the author. Provided with this wealth of material Hawthorne has produced many interesting stories, and none more so than those in this book, which are generally detective in character and serve as striking etchings of life. A good story of mystery never loses its interest, and in such narratives as "The Model Murder" and others contained in this volume Hawthorne surpasses himself at every point.

Press Notices.

The Boston Ideas says: "A more genuinely enjoyable collection of tales has not appeared in a long time. * * * They are like good wine, wholesomely imbibed; they warm, invigorate and produce a feeling of comfortable content."

The Detroit Tribune says: "The author's wealth of fancy, his light and graceful humor and his sure touch in character drawings are all well illustrated."

The Syracuse Herald says: "There are few that surpass Julian Hawthorne, as a writer of short stories, and these are all excellent."

The New York Morning Journal says: "Mr. Hawthorne has the knack of turning out readable tales, and this collection will not in any way diminish his reputation."

The Columbus Journal says: "It is constructed with all the skill of a Dickens and will hold the reader spell-bound."

The Brooklyn Eagle says: "It has some of the author's finest touches."

The Boston Traveller says: "One of the most characteristic of Julian Hawthorne's stories is 'Six Cent Sam's.' * * * The illustrations by Mr. Garnsey greatly add to the attractiveness of this most attractive collection."

The Philadelphia Call says: "The tales are clever and original in idea."

The Salt Lake City Tribune says: "They are all good."

The Portland Argus says: "The stories are intensely interesting"

The Burlington Hawkeye says: "A volume of rare interest."

HONOR,

A Dramatic Story of New York Life. By MAUD HOWE. Illustrated by CHARLES EDWARD BOUTWOOD. 12mo, ornamental cloth, $1.25.

Maud Howe's hold upon the reading public does not depend upon the fact that she is the daughter of Julia Ward Howe, but is firmly fixed by virtue of the literary merit and genuine interest found in her books. She writes of the times as she knows them and has studied them, and whatever she writes has the necessary tincture of reality. Never, therefore, is she without her listeners, and the public, always realizing that she has something to say, is quick to read her novels. In "Honor" she demonstrates more clearly than ever her right to a place in the front rank of American writers, and the book will surely hold her there. As a satire it is of especial merit, depicting, as it does, the modern worship of Mammon and all that the gilded god governs. She forcefully tells what riches can do and what poverty or mere respectability cannot do. Opening this study of contemporáneous life in a mining camp, she gives her leading characters a mushroom fortune and sends them to New York to enter society and demonstrate that while "honor and fame from no condition rise" money is necessary if one desires recognition at the jeweled hands of the Mammonized haut ton. The satire thus expressed is not bitter, as it might have been in less gentle hands, but it is no less incisive and direct. The studies of life are sharply and vividly drawn, and combine to make the book her masterpiece. The story is fiction only in its form—not in its essentials—and presents realities which the public, always argus-eyed, will not be slow to recognize and appreciate. "Honor" is strictly an American novel—a novel of worth and incident well calculated to appeal to all readers.

ILLUSTRATION FROM "BROADOAKS."

BROADOAKS,

A Delightful Story of Virginian Life. By M. G. McClelland. Illustrated by Charles Edward Boutwood. 12mo, cloth, $1.00.

This is one of the most delightful stories that ever flowed from the facile pen of this author. As a story of the South—for the South is Miss McClelland's favorite locale—it should take high rank and with commensurate popularity, for Southern stories have a charm all their own—a charm so indefinable and elusive that it cannot be analyzed. Few authors write well of the South. It requires an especial faculty not often possessed. Northern types and traits may be treated sketchily, after the snapshot system; but when one takes up one's pen to write of the paradise that lies below Mason and Dixon's line one must necessarily be imbued with sympathy, sentiment, something of the inborn poesy of nature, else one's work will be neither effective, natural, nor artistic. The writer of "Broadoaks" writes of her beloved Southland as if she knew it heart and soul, and in this story she is clearly at her best. There is throughout the book that delicacy of touch which betrays the finer instinct; that graphic quality of description which suggests knowledge and acquaintance and that occasional tenderness of treatment which tells its own story. "Broadoaks" is a strong creation, one that will add materially to its author's already widespread national fame.

Press Notices.

The New York Recorder says: "A very good and sweet story."

The Chicago Times says: "The story is well told and charmingly written."

The New Orleans Picayune says: "It is a capital story."

The Boston Traveller says: "In this we have the author at her best."

The Savannah News says: "This is a deeply interesting story."

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "It is a splendid novel."

SYLVESTER ROMAINE,

A Graphic Story of the Times. By CHARLES E. PELLETREAU, B. D. 12mo, modern cloth, $1.00.

This novel, to be appreciated, must be read thoroughly. It is far removed from the trivial, insipid, erotic or sensational, having a solidity of character most refreshing to those who have had a surfeit of current literature of the average class. This fact has been recognized by critics and readers all over the country, with the result that the book has enjoyed a wide sale. Mr. Pelletreau is a forceful writer, with a charm all his own, and in "Sylvester Romaine" he exhibits the best faculties of authorship, presenting a strong, human story of such surpassing interest that the reader, having taken up the book, is loth to lay it aside until the last page has been reached.

Press Notices.

The Burlington Hawkeye says: "An admirable story illustrating the triune virtue of faith, hope and charity."

The San Francisco Chronicle says: " * * * Has an abundance of incident and clever portraiture of character."

The Toledo Blade says: "This interesting story opens with a wreck at sea, in which a young couple, who are upon their bridal tour, are engulfed in the tempestuous waters. This is only an introduction to the stirring events which follow."

The Boston Ideas says: "A story of especial interest for its study of types."

HOLIDAY STORIES,

Charming Sketches. By STEPHEN FISKE. 12mo, ornamental cloth, $1.00.

Stephen Fiske always writes to the point and with a breezy confidence in his own talent. Journalist and critical observer of many years' experience, he has stories to tell, and those embraced in this collection are in his best and happiest vein. "Paddy from Cork" is a gem, but the others are equally good, and the reader finds new beauties in each succeeding one. Taken all in all, "Holiday Stories" is one of the brightest collections now before the public. The volume, in appearance, is decidedly attractive, being bound in red cloth and vellum and gilt-stamped, making a very handsome effect.

Press Notices.

The Boston Transcript says: "There is not a dull story in the book, and the person who starts on the first will not be satisfied until he has finished the last."

The Denver News says: "Whoever reads the first of these stories will immediately proceed to devour the rest, and will find them all excellent."

The Burlington Hawkeye says: "The stories are redolent of human nature patly interpreted, and we would like to read some more of the same."

His youthful admirers will find this book, the scenes of which are laid in New York, much to their liking, and the fifteen handsome illustrations by Chas. Edward Boutwood will give the story an additional value.

Mrs. Denison has written so much that is good that she scarcely needs an introduction to the reading public, which will welcome and admire this story of schoolboy life. In this field, which affords so many opportunities, she is thoroughly at home and never fails to please.

Illustration from "The Romance of a Schoolboy."

Or, How Major Flagg Won his Bet. By THOS. W. KNOX. 12mo, handsome cloth, $1.00.

Col. Knox, in this instance, tells an interesting story of a trip around the world against time, and as such it is even more to the taste than Verne's similar story.

Press Notices.

The Philadelphia Record says: "The adventures of Major Flagg and his party are as wonderful as those of Phineas Fogg."

The Boston Traveller says: "Boys everywhere will welcome it."

Town Topics says: "The journey is one continued suspense of excitement."

Summers, D.D., LL.D., Professor of Systematic Theology in Vanderbilt University. Volume I. includes: 1. Theology Proper. 2. The Person and Work of Christ. 3. Eschatology: the Doctrine of the Last Things. 4. The Person and Offices of the Holy Ghost. 5. The Doctrine of the Holy Scriptures. Volume II. includes: 6. Anthropology: the Doctrine of Man. 7. Ecclesiology: The Doctrine of the Church. 8. Christian Ethics. 9. A Theological Glossary. "No Methodist writer, not excepting Watson, Pope, Raymond, or any other Methodist author, has ever more clearly and forcibly set forth and unanswerably vindicated Wesleyan Methodist Arminianism than has Dr. Summers. As a text-book, on which a student is to stand an examination, it has qualities that must give it the precedence over Watson or Pope."—Dr. John E. Edwards. "Dr. Summers was evidently a man of profound convictions, of wide reading, cautiously conservative, but ready to learn, able to defend his positions. His ultra-conservative views of textual criticism interfere with the accuracy of his citation of proof-text; but his editor has been careful to annotate in the interest of a more correct attitude to the real word of God. Indeed, Professor Tigert has supplemented the volume so as to bring it 'down to date' in all the departments of Biblical learning upon which it seemed to require such enlargement. The doctrinal views are precisely what might be expected from the claims of the title. They are carefully and fully stated, objections are candidly weighed; but the author remains a Wesleyan Arminian."—Sunday-school Times.

RAND, McNALLY & CO.'S GENERAL LIST.

INDEXED POCKET MAPS.

Illustration of the System of Indexing.

The maps of each of the States and Territories in the U. S., and of each of the Canadian Provinces, are accompanied by indexes to railroads, in which each road is numbered, and each of its branches or divisions is distinguished by a letter, while the express company operating over it is also given, thus:

13—Chicago & North-Western, American Express.
c Tama City, to Elmore, Minn., etc.

Other indexes show the counties, creeks, lakes, rivers, etc., and their positions on the map; and a general index to towns, counties, etc., shows in alphabetical order every town, railroad station, and post-office in the State, with its population, its county, its location on the map, the branch or division of the railroad on which it is situated, whether a county seat, a money order post-office, or telegraph station, and the nearest mailing point. Thus:

Webster City, Hamilton, D-5, (Rys 13-c, 27-a, 52) * † ‡ ..3042.

The name of Webster City being printed in black type, it is a county seat, and the name Hamilton, which follows, designates the county. It is found on the accompanying map, which is a section from the Iowa State map, near the intersection of lines drawn between the two E's on the upper and lower margins of the map, and between the two 5's at its sides. It is situated on the Tama City & Elmore Branch of the C. & N.-W. R'y, the Chicago & Sioux City Line of the I. C. R'y., and the Webster City & Southwestern R'y. Is a money order P.-O. (*); a telegraph station (†); and is served by the Amer. Exp. Co. (‡). The population is 3042. Small villages, without post-offices, are indexed thus:

Midway, Boone, E-10, (Ry 13-a) mail Boone,

Meaning that mail for Midway must be sent to the Boone post-office. The reference signs are explained in each map.

Sent by mail, postpaid, bound in flexible cases, upon receipt of the following prices in Currency or Postage Stamps.

This cut represents the Map Case open, and one of the maps partially drawn down. Any one of the maps can be instantly brought to view, and again rolled up out of the way, without the loss of a moment's time, and so easily that any one who can raise or lower a window curtain, can handle the maps in the case satisfactorily. Two screw eyes and two hooks go with each case, with which to attach it to the wall. Full directions on each case.

Price of Case, with full set of eight Maps $42.00

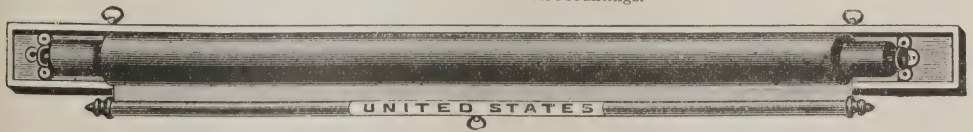
PORTABLE SPRING ROLLER.

The Most Convenient of all Mountings.



The attachments for each Roller are fastened to a handsome hard wood moulding made of cherry, mahoganized and furnished with screw eyes for hanging up. The map can be brought to view, and again rolled up out of the way, in the same manner as a window curtain on a spring roller can be lowered or raised.

This plan of mounting is especially convenient for graded schools, as any map wanted can readily be carried to any room in the building, and in this way one set of maps will be sufficient for the entire school.

RAND, McNALLY & CO.'S

WORLD ON MERCATOR'S PROJECTION.

Size, 58 x 41 Inches.

In the preparation of this map we have endeavored to meet all the requirements that our experience teaches us to be desirable in such a publication. It embodies many valuable and convenient features. The coloring distinguishes political divisions,—a distinction which is extended to coaling stations, ports, and islands belonging to the various great States —and is at once clear and delicate, so as not to obscure the other features of the map. The water, instead of being indicated by a confused mass of lines, as commonly practiced, is of a uniform blue tint, and the coast lines, even to the smallest islands, are so shaded in the engraving as to make the land stand out boldly, as if raised above the level surface. All important places are shown, and as much detail has been introduced as is consistent with clearness, so that the map, without being in the least crowded, contains more geographical information than most charts of the kind. Another feature that will be appreciated is the position of North America and the United States, which are placed near the centre of the map, thus bringing Australia, a large part of China and of the Russian Empire upon the left side of the map. This is an improvement that will be valued by those that have been confused by the English maps, in which those countries are placed on the Eastern side of the chart. In the Arctic Ocean all the discoveries of recent explorers are accurately located; the various ocean currents are shown in detail; and in every respect the map is trustworthy and superior.

In addition to the general chart, the sheet contains small inset maps of the British Isles, Germany, and Sweden and Norway; and colored diagrams showing the comparative heights of the principal mountains and the comparative lengths of the principal rivers of the world.

RAND, McNALLY & CO.'S CATALOGUE.

SPORTSMEN'S BOOKS, ETC.

The American Book of the Dog. The Origin, Development, Special Characteristics, Utility, Breeding, Training, Diseases, and Kennel Management of all important Breeds of Dogs. Edited by G. O. SHIELDS ("Coquina"). 8vo, 700 pages; eighty five illustrations. (Sold by subscription only.) Cloth, $3.50; half morocco, gilt top, $5.00; full morocco, gilt edged, $7.50

The Honorable John S. Wise, the eminent statesman and lawyer, president of the Pointer Club of America, and one of the most distinguished sportsmen and dog fanciers in the country, says of this book: "Mr. Shields, the editor of the AMERICAN BOOK OF THE DOG, is too well known to the readers of sportsmen's literature to require any introduction, and in selecting contributors to this work he has displayed rare good judgment. His list of writers embraces the names of a great many gentlemen who are recognized as leading authorities on the subjects of which they write. While these articles may, in some cases, be more or less tinged by the peculiar views of their authors, the book, thus drawn from many different minds, is not only eclectic in character, but, in my judgment, much more correct and valuable, as a whole, than it could be were it the production of an individual."

The Big Game of North America: Its Habits, Habitat, Haunts, and Characteristics. How, When, and Where to Hunt It. A Book for the Sportsman and the Naturalist. By G. O. SHIELDS ("Coquina"). Eighty illustrations. 8vo, 600 pages. (Sold by subscription only.) Cloth, $3.50; half morocco, gilt top, $5.00; full morocco, gilt edged, $7.50.

The Honorable John Dean Caton, the eminent naturalist and jurist, author of "The Antelope and Deer of America," etc., says of this work: "It is, without exception, the most elaborate, comprehensive, and valuable treatise on our Big Game Animals that has ever been published."

"These are not pans of milk, but little pitchers of cream. If there are any better brief biographical sketches for general use as educators of the young, and as a means of general stimulation to the missionary spirit, we have not met them anywhere. Within the compass of 160 pages there is comprised a mass of information that is often diluted through three times the space, cheap, thrilling, fascinating. These stories of missionary life combine the facts of heroism with the fancies of romance. They are very near the ideals realized. We believe that few will read one chapter without wanting to read the whole, or read one of the series, without wanting to possess the entire series, and then give them away to others."—Rev. Arthur T. Pierson, D.D., in Missionary Review of the World.

These are "real true" stories from Indian life, and, as such, are even stranger than fiction. The first illustrates in a very wonderful way how God is using the press to win the minds and hearts of the Hindus even before they can hear the Gospel; and the second gives a very interesting sketch of the hindrances which a Hindu must overcome in yielding to the claims of the Saviour.

Why did not somebody teach me the constellations too, and make me at home in the starry heavens, which are always overhead, and which I don't half know to this day?"

Small 4to., cloth, $1.50; gilt edge with silk book mark, boxed, $2.00; full morocco, flexible, gilt edges, round corners, boxed..... 3.75

Without doubt one of the most chaste and beautiful gift books ever published. The letterpress has been compiled with the greatest care, and the illustrations are in every way worthy of the text. Pictures reflecting the best in sacred art from Raphael to the present day are scattered profusely through the book.

"To many the life of the Christ will be a new book in this form. Though beyond the introduction it contains no word except what is found in the four Gospels, yet when read continuously, without the breaks necessarily made by the different stories of the four evangelists, the narrative takes on new force and lifelikeness. The very fact that this is not our usual method of reading the Word will give it a new reality."—The Golden Rule.

Mr. Ellis' work met with Mr. Spurgeon's personal approval. It is written by an English acquaintance, who takes us, if not into Mr. Spurgeon's own heart and life, into the inner circle of those who knew him best, and who tells us many new and striking incidents of the great preacher's phenomenal career.

Sermons by the Rev. John McNeill. Vols. I., II. and III., each containing 26 Sermons. 12mo., cloth, each..... 1.50

"The hiding of Mr. McNeill's power appears to be his deep spiritual life and knowledge. He sees things which are invisible. Aiming to convince the judgment, awaken the conscience, and persuade to immediate action; he knows the springs of the human heart through which the objects may be accomplished and touches them. He understands the mission of the gospel and the obstacles which hinder its progress. He smites the evil squarely and proclaims his message in simplicity and plainness of speech, displaying a sublime confidence in the omnipotence of truth."—*Rev. J. M. "These expositions have the character of all Mr. Meyer's writings. They combine devout insight into the rich resources of the Word of God, with skill in adapting it to the spiritual needs of his readers. He is earnest, practical, personal, and he does not allow his good intentions to supply the place of research and study, or to supersede the necessity of thinking for himself. And he rises above the common mistake of devotional writers, who assume that the same rules will suffice, and the same experience is required of every believer."—The Sunday School Times.

Prevailing Prayer.
Twelve Select Sermons.

"By the strenuous cultivation of his gift Mr. Moody has attained to a clear and incisive style which preachers ought to study; and he has the merit which many more cultivated men lack, of saying nothing that does not tend to the enforcement of the particular truth he is enunciating. He knows how to disencumber his text of all extraneous matter, and exhibits his wisdom as a preacher hardly less by what he leaves out than by what he includes. Apart from its primary purpose each of these books has a distinct value as a lesson on homiletics to ministers and students."—The Christian Leader.

Stifler, Prof. J. M., D.D.

An Introduction to the Book of Acts. 12mo., cloth..... 1.25

"For general readers we cannot speak too highly of this book. It marks the great events of this first period subsequent to the death and resurrection of Christ with masterly simplicity and good sense, and performs the work of such an introduction by leaving the outlines and great features of the history strongly impressed on the student's mind."—The Independent.

"Dr. Stifler reviews the book with wary diligence and wakeful judgment, and tells what he finds in it, and what, in his view, the author purposed to do. Although not an interpretative commentary, discussing the exegesis of words and phrases, the work deals sufficiently with the words on which the narrative seems to turn."—The Watchman.

 Library of Choice Authors, No. 1.

This set of fifty volumes for the Sunday school has proven a most popular success. The fact of a selected library without a single volume being included to "fill up," or upon other grounds than its real worth and popularity, has been most encouragingly appreciated. No other set therefore issued can compare with this LIBRARY of CHOICE AUTHORS. Special attention is called: 1st. To our galaxy of authors. 2d. To the size of our books (25 per cent. larger than any other set at the price). 3d. To the durability of the binding (no small matter). 4th. To the real worth of every book. Send for our full descriptive catalogue of this set giving the titles, authors, size of volumes, etc. Per set put up in a neat wooden case..... 24.75

Alypius of Tagaste. A Tale of the Early Church. By Mrs. Webb, author of "Naomi."

"Alypius of Tagaste presents a picture of the early church, particularly in Alexandria, at one of the most interesting periods, when heathenism was vainly battling against the rising power of Christianity. The condition of Christ's faithful followers at that time, and the gradual spreading of the leaven are shown."—The Golden Rule.

Ben Hadden; or, Do Right whatever comes of it. By W. H. G. Kingston.

"Ben Hadden is the son of an English sailor who is lost at sea, but not till he has taught his children to do right whatever comes of it. Ben goes to sea, too, when he is older, and after many vicissitudes discovers his long lost brother, who has been wrecked on an island in the Pacific. There is a good deal of missionary information worked into the story. It is a good, honest story, which boys will enjoy and will get only good from reading."—The Evangelist.

Christ and the Heroes of Heathendom. By Rev. James Wells.

"This is one of the most useful and interesting publications of the Religious Tract Society. The subject is one which engaged the scholarly author for many years. It includes the comparative examination of Aeschylus as the theologian of heathendom; Socrates, its reformer; Plato, its prophet, and Epictetus, its saint, and the summing up of the whole in a chapter on Christ and his competitors. The work is popular and practically useful."—The Independent.

More than Conqueror; or, A Boy's Temptation. By Harriette E. Burch.

The influence of evil associations has its deteriorating effect, and the hero of this story is no exception to the rule. Being placed away from home amidst strangers, he falls into the company of loose companions, but after seeing the folly of his present mode of life turns upon it and becomes the conqueror of self. A good lesson in self-restraint is evolved from the story.

Myra Sherwood's Cross, and How she Bore It. By Edward Garrett, author of "The Occupations of a Retired Life."

Christianity as a real factor in life is often tested by contact with the world. Religion that is not acquainted with adversity, that has never met with sorrow, cannot appreciate the strength of the cords of faith by which it is bound. Myra Sherwood, brought up in deep piety, knows nothing of the world's contest for supremacy. In the severest battles she has her lessons to learn and her trials to bear and the story of the way in which she gains the victory is most interesting and helpful.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

BY TWO OF THE "LITTLE WOMEN."

COMIC TRAGEDIES.

Written by "Jo" and "Meg" and Acted by the "Little Women." With a Foreword by "Meg," Portraits of "Jo" and "Meg," and a view of the house in which they lived. 16mo. Cloth. Uniform with Miss Alcott's books. Price $1.50.

In the good old times, when "Little Women" worked and played together, the big garret was the scene of many dramatic revels. After a long day of teaching, sewing, and "helping mother," the greatest delight of the girls was to transform themselves into queens, knights, and cavaliers of high degree, and ascend into a world of fancy and romance. Cinderella's godmother waved her wand, and the dismal room became a fairy-land. Flowers bloomed, forests arose, music sounded, and lovers exchanged their vows by moonlight. Nothing was too ambitious to attempt; armor, gondolas, harps, towers, and palaces grew as if by magic, and wonderful scenes of valor and devotion were enacted before admiring audiences.

Jo, of course, played the villains, ghosts, bandits, and disdainful queens; for her tragedy-loving soul delighted in the lurid parts, and no drama was perfect in her eyes without a touch of the demonic or supernatural. Meg loved the sentimental rôles, the tender maiden with the airy robes and flowing locks, who made impossible sacrifices for ideal lovers, or the cavalier, singing soft serenades and performing lofty acts of gallantry and prowess. Amy was the fairy sprite, while Beth enacted the page or messenger when the scene required their aid.

From the little stage library, still extant, the following plays have been selected as fair examples of the work of these children of sixteen and seventeen. With some slight changes and omissions, they remain as written more than forty years ago by Meg and Jo, so dear to the hearts of many other "Little Women."
